PRIVATELY OWNED CENTRAL BANK'S COMMITTEE DRIVE

Full Strength of Government
Supporters Massed
to Defeat Amendment
For Public Ownership.

OTTAWA, May 18.—The principle of private ownership triumphed in the banking committee of the House of Commons yesterday when an amendment which would have made Canada a public owned institution met with defeat by four votes. The bill establishing the bank provides that its 50,000 shares shall be privately held.

Conservative members of the committee pressed their fall strength to defeat the amendment of Hon. Ian Macdonald, Liberal member for Vancouver Centre, by 12 to 15. Liberal members and those of the C.P.A. group united in support. On the defeat of Mr. Macdonald's motion G. G. Coote (C.P.A., Montreal), who had a similar motion on file, withdrew.

The division followed a speech by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, who said that the bill was a government-owned institution which he considered it of vital importance to have private ownership. He said that the bill was a government-owned institution which he considered it of vital importance to have private ownership.

With the exception of Australia, Bulgaria, Finland, Latvia, and Rumania all the countries of the world which had central banks followed the principle set down in the bill, the prime minister stated. It was the sincere desire of the government to give to the people of Canada the most efficient institution which could be obtained.

He believed on his honor that he would fail in his duty if he yielded to arguments against the bill, and laid down in the bill.

Charge Teachers Breaking Rules On Punishment

Charging that teachers in the Edmonton public schools were breaking board regulations, particularly in the matter of corporal punishment, Dr. W. Merrish, trustee, at a meeting of the school management committee yesterday announced that the Teachers' Alliance would be asked to bring in a suggested method of procedure for disciplining teachers guilty of infractions. T. E. Hughes and A. P. Tindley, public and high school alliance representatives, agreed that the alliance would give this matter consideration and suggest means of dealing with it.

Stating that the superintendent could not deal thoroughly with such matters, Dr. Merrish suggested that the board should consider the management committee for disciplinary action.

Dr. Merrish said he did not disfavor punishment of corporal punishment but felt that it should be given strictly within board regulations.

Urges Pre-Primary Work In Schools

Four months pre-primary work for children about to enter grade one, in order to give them an introduction to school life, as a means of eliminating failure in the first year, was urged by Dr. W. Merrish at a meeting of the school management committee of the Edmonton Public School Board yesterday.

The committee will recommend to the board, Trustee Merrish resolution, which provides that schools opened on March 1 to children who would be eligible to enter the following September.

Feeling that retardation of pupils in the first year of school life would make it impossible to complete the grade one in 18 months, was the reason for the resolution, he said.

THREAT MADE TO WITNESS COURT HEARS

Fred Jackson in the defence, argued that the threat, as asserted that Mr. Frawley was only bringing this out for the jury, W. B. Murray, K.C., is assisting Mr. Frawley. Frawley made a vigorous defence and declined to go further into the matter of the threat. His Lordship then intervened and said that the effect of the law should fully investigate the matter, and also told Olson that he was in this country had anything to fear from threats. Olson, who was a special guard in Frank Conrad when the latter was first arrested and held in the R. C. M. P. detachment guardroom at West Fur Company, said he had pleaded with him to get in touch with the Norman brothers, Buck Creek settlers and neighbours of Conrad, and tell the Normans to tell police, if questioned, that old Conrad had spent the night of November 15 with them. Olson said he told old Conrad that he did not know the Normans.

WRITE NAME
Conrad is then alleged to have written "T. J. La Fleche Brothers" on a piece of paper torn from the cover of a detective magazine, and then to have written "T. J. La Fleche Brothers" on a piece of paper torn from the cover of a detective magazine, and then to have written "T. J. La Fleche Brothers" on a piece of paper torn from the cover of a detective magazine.

The piece of paper was identified by Constable Olson and entered in an exhibit.

Constable Jackson, Breton had been merchant, then told of a conversation with Conrad some time before the latter was arrested, and that he had said to him that he would go to him for his money.

The conversation is alleged to have taken place when old Conrad was relating his domestic difficulties and the state of the Conrad family as a result of Mrs. Conrad, having gone to the east with Anderson for two years.

SOLD BOX OF SHELLS
Clarence Jettison, son of the previous witness, told of selling a box of 22 W.R.P. shells to Constable Jackson on the morning of November 15, and that this was corroborated by W. H. Kane of Breton.

Evidence with regard to the shooting of the slain was given by Dr. D. G. Revell, anatomist, who said that the wounds were those of a bullet and that the bones were fresh when he examined them.

Dental work found in the ruins was identified by Dr. Delius M. Fild and Dr. R. A. Gies of Portland, Oregon, as being identical with work done for Carl Anderson in Portland 19 years ago. Dr. A. Buysa, director of the school of dentistry at the University of Alberta, gave evidence with regard to dental work involved in the case, and Andy Buysa, neighbor of deceased said Anderson had gold work in his upper left jaw.

Conrad's Moves Prove Vital Point
The movements of Frank Conrad on the night of Nov. 15 last may prove the vital and determining factor in the latter for his life being wasted in the criminal court before Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing and jury. Question of Conrad's whereabouts before he was arrested on the Thursday morning killing was the matter for the jury to decide.

Buck Creek farmer. The issue was raised while Sgt. William Buchanan, R.C.M.P. was giving testimony.

While Sgt. Buchanan was giving his testimony, R. F. Jackson, defence counsel, produced a copy of a statement, said to have been given by accused to Sgt. Buchanan, after the last-mentioned had been placed in charge of the field work in connection with clearing up the mystery surrounding the burning of Anderson's store and the finding of adult human bones in the ruins.

The statement told of various movements Conrad was supposed to have made.

HAD GONE NORTH
It contained the information that Conrad on Wednesday, Nov. 15, along Hudson's Bay Company prospecting party for winter and it was dark when he got home.

In cross-examination Mr. Jackson sought to establish that on the first night Conrad was under guard by a specially appointed constable named Olson, accused had told Olson to be sure and tell the police, if asked, that he had been at Archie Norman's place on the night of Nov. 15.

Opening his evidence, Sgt. Buchanan recalled that he had received a series of bones from Constable Jackson on Nov. 21, and that he had first taken to Anderson's on Nov. 22. He told of finding several shells. On Nov. 27 a shell was pointed out to him. It was lying where over a dozen of Anderson's shells had been.

SHELLS HANDED OVER
He also told of examining Conrad's shoes on April 11 of this year and of finding 25 long and short 22 calibre shell cases. These shells had been handed over to Henry Bruce.

Sergeant-examined by Mr. Jackson, Sgt. Buchanan said the shells found at Anderson's were not the same kind as those found at Anderson's, although they could be fired from the same gun.

He saw Frank Conrad on Nov. 24. Conrad had made statements to him in which he told of having originally come to the Breton settlement to see all Buck Creek in 1918. In that year, he said, he had said his wife, daughter Doris and Carl Anderson had gone to the east for two years, during part of which time Anderson had lived in the same house as Mrs. Conrad.

Conrad also had told him that in January, 1932, he had started acting against his wife and that he had said "Anderson for damages as the older man in the case. The case had come up in April, 1932.

In the case, the accused had not remembered telling anyone he would "fix" Anderson.

Conrad then had detailed his movements on Nov. 13, 14 and 15. Dr. MacGregor told of receiving the bones on Nov. 22 from Sgt. Buchanan, who were after he had been examined by him.

There had been no evidence of bullet holes in the body of the slain, but he had said that he had seen the body of the slain.

RACKET IS CHARGED IN FERTILIZERS

Price Structure Built by Organization, Mass
Buyers Hear

OTTAWA, May 17.—Charges that a price fixing structure was being maintained among certain fertilizer manufacturers which permitted exorbitant profit from gardeners and fruit growers in Ontario west of a line drawn from Kingston to Pembroke were heard before the parliamentary price spreads probe yesterday. The allegations were made by M. M. Robinson, representing Ontario Growers' Market Council.

"This price structure is maintained by an organization known as the Eastern Fertilizer Association, of which A. L. Smith is president and Alex. Honeoy, secretary," stated Mr. Robinson.

The Eastern Canada Fertilizer Association, the market council representative charged further, maintains a black list and on it are to be found the names of co-operatives and individuals who have been content to handle fertilizers on a smaller margin than that demanded by the association. Some of these co-operatives and independent agents are able to carry on by bootlegging some of their ingredients and by use of substitutes in their mixtures.

DRUMHELLER JOBLESS SEND DELEGATION

Demands of Valley Strikers go Before Hon. O. L. McPherson Today

DRUMHELLER, Alta., May 17.—Drumheller's Central Council of unemployed lost no time in getting its delegation away to Edmonton last night, James Fyfe, strike secretary, Mike Winkup of Rosedale and Hugh Anderson of Wayne leaving here shortly after ten o'clock for an all night drive to the Capital. The three delegates will immediately contact the U.M.W.A. at Albion Hall Friday morning before heading for the government building.

The delegation plan to place their demands personally before Hon. O. L. McPherson and also endeavor to interest the Edmonton unemployed still further in their plight which they believe is the best way to further relief would be issued until the men signified their willingness to return to work.

While many of the rank and file members of the strike claimed that they had no food in their homes, the delegates were anxious in their decision to continue following the demonstration, committee went to work to plan out some means of feeding their numbers.

Notified by word on Thursday morning of the men's determination to remain in force in the government's policy to starve them back to work, Hon. O. L. McPherson wired to Secretary James Fyfe that there was "No question of starving anyone. Relief issue available with usual conditions attached, condition being that the men promise to return to work."

Strikers are demanding a 50 per cent. increase of food allowance which at present is $5.25 per adult person per month and $2.40 per child per month, plus clothing allowance and allowance for light, heat and water.

RELIEF BOARD SEEKS FULL WORK PROGRAM

This year. The sum of $1 was cut from relief allowances when the city decided that it would supply food to the relief cases. Mr. McPherson, D. K. Knott was present to give a comprehensive account of his negotiations with both the federal and provincial governments on questions pertaining to relief. Referring to the provincial government, he permitted to relief until such time as by council that Edmonton be permitted to receive its one-third share of food allowances in cash, he declared that the provincial government was opposed to such a step since it would necessitate such a system being adopted in other municipalities in the province. Alberta relief officials, he said, maintained the government was prepared to increase such a drastic change in its present system to allow an increased relief until such time as the relief agreement with the Dominion government was effected.

BEAR WHOLE COST

Water Street, provincial minister of labor, had pointed out that no increase could be allowed in Edmonton's present relief schedule without authorization by the provincial relief branch. In the present method, there was a danger of losing the contribution from the provincial government. There was a danger of losing the contribution from the provincial government.

Calgary's scale, continued the mayor, was 25 per cent. higher than Edmonton's and was also higher than that recommended by the provincial advisory relief committee.

The reason for the advisory committee's scale had not been stated in the province was due to the fact that Calgary was objecting to any reduction in its present relief schedule.

"If this committee (the civic relief committee) wants to increase the scale, it had better see the government. But I warn you that the relief scale in Edmonton will have to bear the full cost of any increase," he said.

He pointed out that even the scale advanced from 75 to 90 cents per week given to children on relief was costing the city about $3,000 a year.

Ald. Crang confessed that the first thought that came into his mind when he considered in relief was whether it was to be borne by the city or by the province, whether by contributions by the city or by the province, or by the province, was of secondary importance.

As far as he was concerned, said Ald. Crang, an advance in relief was to be a three-way battle with the government sharing in the cost. Edmonton paid the second highest rate in the province, he said.

A conference of Alberta mayors was scheduled for May 31 at Calgary to study the question of unemployment, he said.

Her Singing Gets Call of Squeaking

JEANIE LANG

You can't tell Jeanie Lang anything about her own singing on the radio. Some critics have been heard to say that her singing sounds like "squeaking". But Jeanie isn't offended, because she describes it the same way.

Ald. Crang introduced another angle of the relief question into the discussion when he declared that the majority of those in receipt of assistance from the city did not want to feel that they were receiving charity. They would rather work for the relief they were being given.

According to a survey of work done, it was cheaper to keep unemployed on a dole system than it was to use them for relief labor. Mayor Knott stated he claimed it cost the city between 30 and 35 cents per man per day to supply relief labor, this cost including tools, foremen's pay, material, etc.

The committee, agreed, with a suggestion by Ald. Ogilvie that approval be given the principle of having all maintenance work done by regularly paid employees of the city as far as finances would permit.

Those attending the meeting included Gen. R. McLeod, W. A. Menzies, Ald. Parsons, Public Health, Col. T. C. Sims, R. J. Metcalfe, all of the Ex-Servicemen's Association, and Commissioner of the Unemployed Men's Association and other orators.

It was also explained by W. A. Irwin, a member of the contact committee, that the relief work was being done by the city as far as finances would permit.

Market Bill Speeds-Up As Week Blockade Lifts

Govt. Concedes Points Demanded by Liberal Opposition

OTTAWA, May 18.—The blockade against the government marketing bill was lifted yesterday, a dozen or more clauses passing through committee stage to mark the first progress in a week of solid deadlock.

Two amendments, which passed the Conservatives provided each one and accepted another suggestion from the Liberals. Opposition members from the extreme end of the country, the Maritimes and the Pacific coast, protested the provisions of the bill but were out-voted.

The Liberals won a point they have been urging all week when the government accepted an amendment proposed by R. H. Howie, Minister of Agriculture.

RELIEF STRIKE PARADE QUIET; LEADERS SPEAK

Unemployed Hold Demonstration to Back up Demands for Added Relief

Unemployed hold demonstration to back up demands for added relief. The parade was held in the downtown streets Thursday afternoon that gave form to the unemployed relief strike.

A bare 800 to double that number as the line of march proceeded. Apparently solid and united in their effort to better relief conditions, the marchers were orderly yet insistent in their banners demanding a new deal for families dependent on the three governments for their daily bread.

Sections of the march sang songs and outside of this and a few calls and yells from the younger men in the parade, the march was exceptionally quiet.

Back at their base at the Market Square from where the parade started at 2:30 p.m., the marchers grouped closely around the speakers, men and women, and other orators.

It was also explained by W. A. Irwin, a member of the contact committee, that the relief work was being done by the city as far as finances would permit.

PIERRE, S.D., May 18.—A federal court jury considering charges of conspiracy against Mrs. Fern Sankey and Mrs. Alvina Kuller in the kidnapping of Charles Boettcher, Jr., reported last night it was unable to reach a verdict and was discharged by Judge Lee Wynan.

Sankey will be at liberty on $10,000 bond pending the trial, while Mrs. Kuller, who was unable to furnish a like bond, will be taken back to jail in Sioux Falls.

Deny Any Decision Made To Cut Relief Strikers Off Lists

Mayor Knott Declares
Statement Appearing in Another Edmonton
Newspaper Not True.

Despite the fact that city commissioners have not yet made an announcement on what action will be taken against relief strikers who they apply for their weekly relief next Monday, another Edmonton newspaper has made the statement Friday: "Relief strikers who refuse to go to work Monday will be struck off relief."

"We have not yet decided what will be done."

Any action against the strikers must be taken by commission, or by city council through a recommendation from commission, and until all avenues of negotiation have been used no action will be taken.

The commissioners are now waiting for some recommendation from the negotiating committee of city strikers who are in conference with the unemployed bodies in an effort to solve the problem. The commission will make a decision at its meeting Thursday.

The city council should not be asked to make a decision until the committee has been approved. The committee will meet Saturday afternoon.

PROPOSED VIEW
It is not expected that the strikers will be struck from the relief list until the relief is refused for a week. Earlier in the week it was stated by relief officials that possibly a breakdown might occur if the strikers were not taken off the list.
